Since the 1st and 2nd sessions start at page 1, we have placed an asterisk next to duplicate page numbers to distinguish the sessions. For example, the entry “393-405; 409-425*” means that all these pages come from the 2nd session. This notation occurs only in the Speaker and Subject segments of the index, as the dates of the sessions are indicated in other places and clearly do not overlap. Further, since the 2nd session began in April 2008 and ended in May 2009, we have distinguished debate that occurred in April and May 2009 by adding “spring 2009” after relevant page numbers.

Since the 1st and 2nd sessions start at page 1, we have placed an asterisk next to duplicate page numbers to distinguish the sessions. For example, the entry “393-405; 409-425*” means that all these pages come from the 2nd session. This notation occurs only in the Speaker and Subject segments of the index, as the dates of the sessions are indicated in other places and clearly do not overlap. Further, since the second session began in April 2008 and ended in May 2009, we have distinguished debate that occurred in April and May 2009 by adding “spring 2009” after relevant page numbers.
