To the Members of the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island, Charlottetown

I am pleased to present the 2022 Annual Report of the Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island and the P.E.I. Branch of the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association for the period January 1, 2022 to December 31, 2022.

The second spring sitting of the Second Session of the 66th General Assembly commenced February 22, 2022, and concluded on May 6, 2022. The fall sitting of the Second Session of the 66th General Assembly began on November 1, 2022 and concluded on December 1, 2022.

As the conservation project for Province House continues, we encourage the public of Prince Edward Island to visit our interim Assembly Chamber in the Honourable George Coles Building, Monday to Friday or take part when the Legislature is in session.

I wish to acknowledge and thank all staff for their contribution and commitment for their work in supporting the Members and operations of the Legislative Assembly on Prince Edward Island.

Respectfully,

Honourable Colin LaVie, MLA MLA Speaker of the Legislative Assembly

Who We Are

The legislative branch of our provincial government has the power and responsibility to debate, amend and make laws. The Legislative Assembly of Prince Edward Island, also referred to as "the House", is made up of one elected member or MLA from each of the 27 electoral districts across the province.

One of the primary responsibilities of the Legislative Assembly is to create provincial laws. Proposed laws are put forward by members as bills. Bills that pass all stages and receive Royal Assent from the Lieutenant Governor become laws.

The Legislative Assembly also holds the government accountable for its actions and for departmental expenditures. This is a key function of the Legislative Assembly, ensuring the public - through its elected members - has a say in how public monies are spent.

Mandate

The Office of the Legislative Assembly's mandate is to support elected officials in their legislative duties. It is guided by the Legislative Assembly Act L-7.1, which sets out the composition, duration, abilities, responsibilities and rules of the parliament for the Province. This act further specifies roles and administrative processes that facilitate the business and operation of 'the House'.

The Legislative Assembly also administers the Provincial Emblems and Honours Act RSPEI 1987 Cap P-26.1 when facilitating the Order of Prince Edward Island merit award, the highest honour the province can bestow on its citizens.

Mission

- To provide professional, non-partisan and efficient services to facilitate and support the operation of the parliament of the province, and;
- to capture, maintain and provide access to the records of parliamentary business to the legislative members and the public in order to uphold our democratic process.
- To make the operation of parliament in our province accessible to all.

Our Values and Ethics

Democratic	Helping parliamentarians, under law, to serve the public interest.
Professional	Serving with competence, excellence, efficiency, objectivity and impartiality.
Ethical	Acting at all times to uphold the public trust.
Respectful	Demonstrating respect, fairness and courtesy in our relations with the public, colleagues and fellow public servants.

The Honourable Colin LaVie Speaker of the Legislative Assembly 197 Richmond Street, Charlottetown

It is my pleasure to present the 2022 Annual Report for the Legislative. This report highlights organizational accomplishments during the fourth year of the 66th Assembly.

The primary role of the Office of the Legislative Assembly is to deliver services to elected Members and support them in their work representing Islanders. The Legislative Assembly is the most important government institution in our province. It enables members to gather information, closely examine issues important to Islanders and promotes transparency and accountability in government.

This was the year that COVID infections impacted the operations of the Legislative Assembly. Virtualhybrid proceedings were held for the first time during the Pandemic and showed that even in an emergency, the Legislative Assembly can adapt to be able to meet. The professional staff who serve this institution have once again delivered services to members in very challenging circumstances.

We had the honour of hosting two conferences this year. The Canadian Region Commonwealth Parliamentary Conference and the Professional Development Seminar for Canadian Clerks-at-the-Table. Not only were these both great opportunities for professional development and networking but also a chance to show delegates from around the world the beauty of Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the support of you, and the Members of the Standing Committee on Legislative Assembly Management in dealing with matters necessary for the efficient operation of the Legislative Assembly.

History of the Legislative Assembly

Prince Edward Island's government was not always led by one House of elected representatives; for roughly the first 120 years of Island governance, there were two legislative bodies, the Legislative Council and the House of Assembly. A twobody Legislature is known as a bicameral Legislature.

1770 The Mi'kmaq island of Epekwitk was renamed St John's Island by the British in 1758 after gaining control from French settlers who had named it Íle St. Jean following their arrival in 1720.

The island's journey to self-governance begins with the arrival of Governor Patterson on the 19th of September.

- 1773 The first House of Assembly is elected. Only Protestant males could vote or hold office at this time and 18 Assemblymen gathered, passing 13 laws in 5 days.
- 1812 John Plaw completes a building in Queen's Square to house the legislature and courthouse. Before this time, the legislature had met in private homes and taverns.
- 1833 The term of members of the legislature is set to four years. Prior to this time, the term was determined solely according to the will of the Governor. Today, the term of an Assembly is a maximum of five years after the return of the writs for a general election. MLAs do not have a maximum term.
- 1839 The Legislative Council is separated into the Legislative Council and the Executive Council, and some members of the House of Assembly also serve on Executive Council.
- 1847 The legislature meets in the newly constructed Colonial Building for the first time. It later came to be known as Province House and remains the permanent seat of the legislature to this day.
- 1851 Responsible Government, (self-governance), is granted, largely due to the existence of an elected House of Assembly. George Coles, a strong supporter of the system, becomes the first Premier.
- 1862 A new Act requires that the Legislative Council no longer be appointed but elected.
- 1864 In September, Prince Edward Island hosts The Charlottetown Conference, which leads to Confederation and the birth of Canada as a nation.
- 1873 Prince Edward Island joins Confederation.
- 1893 The Legislative Council and House of Assembly are merged to form the Legislative Assembly, with 30 members. Each of the 15 electoral districts elected an Assemblyman and a Councilor, a system that was unique in Canadian politics until its abolition in 1996.

- An Act is passed to require secret balloting for provincial elections.
- Under a new Election Act, women vote for the first time in a PEI election.
- The riding of 6th Queens is created, increasing the Legislative Assembly from 30 to 32 members.
- Jean Canfield becomes the first women elected to the island legislature.
- Marion Reid becomes the Legislative Assembly's first female Deputy Speaker.
- Marion Reid becomes the first female Speaker of the Legislative Assembly.
- Pat Mella becomes the first female leader of a provincial political party in PEI. Marion Reid becomes the Legislatives Assembly's first Lieutenant Governor.
- 1993 Catherine Callbeck becomes the first female Premier of PEI and n all of Canada. Pat Mella held the Opposition seat in the House, Nancy Guptill was elected Speaker of the House, Libbe Hubley Deputy Speaker and with Marion Reid as Lieutenant Governor, the five most powerful executive and parliamentary roles in government were filled by women simultaneously for the first time in Canada's history, and are subsequently known as PEI's Famous Five.
- The 1996 general election was the first time an Assembly was elected under the Election Act and Electoral Boundaries Commission of 1994 which established single member representation for each of the 27 districts of the redrawn electoral map, a system still in use today.
- Province House closes for extensive structural repairs and restoration. The Speech from the Throne for the First Session of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly is delivered on June 3rd in the neighbouring Honourable George Coles Building, marking the first time since 1847 that the full legislature has sat anywhere but Province House.
- New Virtual Proceedings rule effective January 1, 2021 in response to COVID 19, (first case detected March 14, 2020).
- 2nd Session of the 66th General Assembly opens with an in-person and virtual hybrid proceeding.

Potato Wart Fungus

From its discovery in 2 locations in October 2021, potato wart fungus had an immeasurable impact on the Island and its potato farmers, following the federal order restricting the movement of fresh PEI potatoes world-wide and a ban on seed potatoes in November 2021.

In February 2022, the Island was able to resume table stock exports to Puerto Rico after meeting USDA and Canada Food Inspection Agency requirements and fresh potatoes were once again able to cross the border in April. Seed potatoes are currently still subject to trade suspensions.

Potato wart fungus management and mitigating its impacts were the subject of a number of Standing Committee on Natural Resources and Environmental Sustainability meetings, which saw presentations from and met with industry, provincial and federal representatives regarding practices and provisions being put in place and enabled the committee to make cohesive and impactful recommendations to government.

58th Canadian Regional Conference

The first of two inter-parliamentary organisation events held on the Island this year was the 2022 Canadian Parliamentarian Association's annual conference from July 16 - July 22.

Business sessions began with jurisdictional updates and proceeded to include a PEI perspective on private Members bills, a

The second inter-parliamentary organisation event held on Island in 2022, was the Annual General Meeting of Legislative Assembly Clerks, held on PEI from August 29 -September 2. With the aim of collaborating on best practice, conducting jurisdictional scans and sharing experiences, hosted over 5 days, the event managed a packed agenda which, in addition to a two-part Annual General Meeting, included presentations and meetings on Manitoba's perspective, British Columbia's governance framework review, a parliamentary privilege panel, a roundtable discussion on parliamentary stewardship, a modern legislature's workshop and international reports.

Death of Queen Elizabeth II

On September 8, the Lieutenant Governor Antoinette Perry extended condolences on behalf of all Islanders to King Charles III and the entire Royal Family following the announcement of the death of Queen Elizabeth II with books of condolences made available to the public at Government House and the Hon. The day of the Commemorative Ceremony on September 19 was declared as a one-time statutory holiday in Prince Edward Island by the provincial Cabinet, with the Island's official Commemorative Ceremony being held at St. Peter's Cathedral Church in Charlottetown at 2pm. The event was live streamed and made available for viewing through Government of PEI channels and Province House was illuminated blue that night as part of the commemoration.

Hurricane Fiona

A hurricane damaged Charlottetown house - Photo Credit: Mikee Mutuc/CBC

Making landfall on the evening of September 23, the effects of Hurricane Fiona will be felt for many years to come. Island-wide power outages ranged from hours in a few cases to days for most and, unfortunately weeks some. Damage to properties, power and telecom lines from fallen trees was widespread and especially prevalent in the Brighton area of Charlottetown with its historic trees, meaning it joined some rural areas in the longest waits for the restoration of services.

The Legislative Assembly was able to return to business on October 11 with the hurricane's aftermath the subject the reason for the increased number of meetings for the Education and Economic Growth, Health and Social Development and Natural Resources and Environmental Sustainability Standing Committees.

Smudging Ceremony at Province House

On November 2nd the Mi'kmaq leadership, L'nuey and Parks Canada representatives took part in a smudging ceremony held at Province House.

A handwoven basket made by Keptin James Bernard was filled with sacred medicine, blessed by an elder and placed within a renovated wall of the building to establish a connection between the Mi'kmaq and the provincial government, resetting the tone of the building in which discussions and decisions that excluded and impacted indigenous people had been made.

Lennox Island First Nation Chief Darlene Bernard stated the event was in recognition the spirit of collaboration between the Mi'kmaq on PEI and the provincial government and that Mi'kmaq items would be on permanent display when the building reopens to the public.
